Remelting the old
into the new.

Our new corporate identity could not have been better cast.

Gieterij Dijkkamp BV has changed its name to Dijkkamp Gieterwerk op Maat (Dijkkamp Custom Casting). We are proud to present to you our new corporate identity, which has the dynamic new look & feel that fits our innovative approach and vision.

For more than 95 years, our iron and steel foundry has been a household name in the Netherlands and, for the past few years, also internationally.

Whereas, in the past, we primarily produced semi-finished cast products, in response to customer requests, we have begun to focus more and more in recent years on delivering complete end products and carrying out custom casting projects.

We also provide all related services, such as machine finishing, surface treatments, engineering and project assistance, in order to offer our customers one-stop-shopping at its best.

Since our entire production capacity (dimensions, weights and choice of materials) has also increased significantly, we can now serve our customers even better.

The Dijkkamp name continues to stand for guaranteed first-rate quality, short delivery times and personal attention.

We look to the future with the utmost confidence and look forward to either continuing our business partnership or welcoming you as a new customer.

Our legal name remains unchanged. For more information, please visit our updated website: www.dijkkamp.nl
